Domination of Austria Gives Kaiser Greatest Empire in Europe Since Days of Romans

Mittel Europa.

DUAL MONARCHY BROKEN INTO GERMAN PROVINCES

Prussian Conquest Extends Sway Over Most of the Lands Marked for Absorption on Pre-War Maps.

BY FRANK H. SIMONDS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 16.—Twice in European history the Spanish monarchy fell to a position with respect of France like that which Austria-Hungary now stands toward Germany. Louis XIV placed a French prince upon the Madrid throne. Napoleon sent his brother to the Spanish capital, and for the time being Spain became a French possession. But there is a sharp difference between Spain and Austria-Hungary, for there is a Spanish people possessing a pride in race and independence, as keen as that of any nation, while Austria-Hungary is a geographical expression and a racial concept.

For several centuries the disappearance of Austria has been a familiar expectation. Austria has endured, as one statesman put it, because if there were no Austria, it would be necessary to have one. Today we are facing the old question in a slightly changed form. Beyond all question Austria-Hungary has temporarily lost its independence and is compelled to submit servilely to German rule. Spain was to Napoleon. The Emperor Charles is no more master of his policy or of his army than was Napoleon's master of Spain. Austria's policies will be those of Berlin and not in Vienna, as they largely have been since July, 1914.

AN OLD QUESTION.

This raises the old question of the future in a form discussed earlier in the war and then temporarily dropped when Russia collapsed after Italy was defeated. Presumably had inferior and German power will be neutral the Austro-German combination will be able to dominate Europe. The Hapsburgs are still the Hapsburgs, the Emperor Charles is still the Emperor Charles, and the German army is still the German army. The dual monarchy must look to Germany for support to maintain its minority rule in the south. Selfish purposes and ambitions would seem to drive the Germans and the Hungarians in the Hapsburg monarchy into closer union with their Russian brethren.

MAP AT PRESENT.

Nevertheless, it is essential to recognize that for the moment at least the German has painted upon the map of Europe a picture of the world coloring which his earliest sketches in the years before the present conflict. Austria for the present at least, is falling into the scheme of the German sword—will endure. A similar fate may await it from 1810 or 1811, when Napoleon was at the zenith of his power and France surrounded by subject kingdoms, has its own meaning when considered in the light of the fact that in 1812, after one defeat, the French receded to the Rhine and a few months later France returned to the frontiers of 1789.

MAP AT FUTURE.

In the same fashion the dual monarchy must look to Germany for support to maintain its minority rule in the south. Selfish purposes and ambitions would seem to drive the Germans and the Hungarians in the Hapsburg monarchy into closer union with their Russian brethren. The Jugo Slavs are more and more tending to a final alignment with the Serbs in the creation of an Adriatic kingdom stretching from the Po to Cattaro. And the more completely the Germans of Austria and the Magyars of Hungary surrender themselves to the Germans, the more voices will be raised in favor of the Slavs and the more insistent their demand for liberty.

DISSOLUTION THREATENS.

Austria-Hungary, it would seem, in consequence must, in part or entirely, pass to the control of Germany and be broken up into a series of independent units stretching from the Alps to the Rave. And it is toward this latter goal that all the Slavonic races represented in this country are moving. The Jugo Slavs, the Greeks, the Bulgarians, the Roumanians, the Rumanians and the others small races, mainly Alpine, which constitute the bulk of the empire, are and will remain hostile alike to the German and to the Hungarian Bohemia and Moravia constitute the nucleus of a new state. The Austrian Poles are already seeking union with their Russian brethren. The Jugo Slavs are more and more tending to a final alignment with the Serbs in the creation of an Adriatic kingdom stretching from the Po to Cattaro. And the more completely the Germans of Austria and the Magyars of Hungary surrender themselves to the Germans, the more voices will be raised in favor of the Slavs and the more insistent their demand for liberty.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS TO REVIEW NEW RECRUITS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CAMP LEWIS (Tacoma, Wash.), May 16.—Major Gen. H. A. Greene and staff and officers of the Grand Army of the Republic, in State encampment at Tacoma, will review tomorrow afternoon more than 10,000 men who arrived at camp in the April draft and have been in training in the depot brigade a scant three weeks.

The review of the new men will be made an honor occasion for the Civil War veterans and their wives.

Retired men at Camp Lewis were notified in an official bulletin today that none may obtain transfer to the aviation section of the Signal Corps nor to the spruce production division, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of the Y.M.C.A. buildings, occupying the entire block between Montana and California avenues, opposite the hostess houses.

Camp Lewis is to have for two days the famous British war tank "Hannibal," which saw service on the battle fields of France. It was announced today by Col. F. E. Braden, manager of the Liberty Theater. Arrangements have been made for bringing the tank here July 26 to participate in the great patriotic play, "Getting Together," which Holbrook Blinn and Blanche Bates appear. The play was produced in conjunction with the American patriotic propaganda.

Additional to hospital buildings and equipment call for a large expenditure. Sixty thousand dollars is asked for the construction of permanent quarters for our hospital personnel as additional hospital buildings near now completion. At present there are two buildings under construction by the War Department for that purpose. The report has been sent to Washington for approval and authorization of the construction.

The biggest item in the report is $170,000, for additional barracks capacity, to accommodate 6,000 troops. All the large barracks buildings will be increased by building over the kitchen.

TIMES' ADVERTISING FIGURES AT TOP AS USUAL.

The merchants of Los Angeles and the classified advertisers continue to pin their faith and stick close to the policy of inserting the most of their advertising (in many instances inserting it exclusively) in The Times.

On May 12 the local newspapers printed 19,349 inches of advertising. Of this big volume of business 9,526 inches were inserted in The Times.

Tabulated, the record for advertising in each paper on May 12, 1918, was as follows:

The Times	9,526 inches
Second newspaper	6,151 "
Third newspaper	3,642 "

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

And also, as usual, The Times tops the list in the universally popular "want ads," printing 822 inches more of these rapid-fire business bringers than the other newspapers combined, to wit:

The Times	8,227 inches
Second newspaper	1,766 "
Third newspaper	629 "

Advertising in The Times is not a speculation. It increases business, makes trades, keeps the wheels moving and reduces selling costs.

Jury Finds Death Caused by Men Accused.

Graphic details of the death struggle in George Edwin Burnell's school of metaphysics at No. 1436 South Flower street last Tuesday were described by witnesses to the slaying of William MacKendrick at the inquest held in the parlors of Pierce Brothers yesterday.

Charles Anderson, follower of Mr. Burnell's philosophy, who was arrested by the detectives shortly after the crime, was held responsible for Mr. MacKendrick's death, according to the verdict returned by the jury. Following the inquest, Anderson was removed to the County Jail and lodged there on a complaint obtained by Detective Sergeant Beaumont and Robert Richardson, both of whom were present.

Preliminary moves of what promises to develop into a legal battle for the suspect's life when his trial is called in the Superior Court will be taken in the action of the attorneys, John L. Richardson and LaCampte Davis, and the line of questions asked by them at the inquest.

Some of the testimony introduced was considered favorable to the slayer-suspect. Among the statements made were some indicating that MacKendrick had been beaten down in the face and started the fight. The victim died of a wound in the leg, which severed an important artery, and was inflicted by Anderson, the follower, who was also denied, at the time of his arrest, that he carried the knife for the purpose of killing Mr. MacKendrick. Financial considerations, and the like, were mentioned by him, said by him to have been the cause between Messrs. Burnell, MacKendrick and himself, were not mentioned at the inquest.

Anderson, two sisters, one of whom is a student of the philosophy taught by Mr. Burnell, were present at the inquest. Friends of the suspect slayer declared the sister and brother-in-law, Anderson's help in his battle for life.

The wealthy servant, accompanied by his wife, also a lecturer on metaphysics, and Della, the young woman whose name was mentioned by Anderson as one of the causes leading up to the tragedy, were also present.

ENDS ARSON CASE.

Russell Whom Jury Found Guilty, and Judge Exonerated, Won't Have to Face Second Trial.

Abraham Conviser, a Russian Jew who was convicted of arson in Judge Willis' court last December, was exonerated discharged by the court yesterday when his second trial was about to begin.

The defendant was charged with setting fire to a building at Sixth and Flower streets, in 1916, and the jury found him guilty. Judge Willis set aside the verdict on the ground that it was not justified by the evidence. Assistant District Attorney Keyes was asked yesterday if the prosecution had any additional evidence, and he replied that he had none, whereupon Judge Willis exonerated him.

The court remarked there was no crime that more deserves punishment of the most severe description than arson, and it was necessary to prove it. This had not been done in the Conviser case, he stated.

Justice and Security Sought for Nations.

Federal Speaker Addresses Meetings Here.

Individual Missionary Work Largely Wasted.

Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, member of the National Committee on the Moral Aims of the War, who, with Dr. George W. Nash, of the speakers' division of the Committee on Public Information, is touring the United States lecturing on "What We Are Fighting For," yesterday addressed three gatherings which crowded the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"The United States stands and fights for a moral interpretation of the relations and activities of nations," he said. "We demand open diplomacy. We seek justice and security for nations and peoples, small and great alike. We stand for the adjustment and government of territories in the interests and rights of their own populations."

"Only in the co-operation of nations can the moral ideal of the rights and duties of nations begin to be realized."

"Whatever may have been the immediate or remote occasion of the war, the real issue at stake is the question as to the real nature of the state, an issue which President Wilson has so successfully brought to the front in his many utterances. Is the state a moral or physical being?"

"If the state is a moral being, then the principles of justice and moral law which should follow are that the state must be honest. It must tell the truth, it must be well informed, but no action was taken. Mr. Barnes made no denial. Mr. Britt

"Then you think it about time your marriage to my daughter should be terminated?" Mr. Britt said he asked his son-in-law.

"That's for you to say," was the reply.

Mr. Britt said he advised Mr. Barnes to employ a lawyer. Subsequently Attorney M. F. Shannon called him up, the matter was discussed, but no action was taken. Mr. Barnes did not appear in court or return.

Detectives testified that they had followed Mr. Barnes to the apartment of the unnamed woman in the case. Mrs. Barnes made a brief recital of her married life. The

RED CROSS WORKER GRANTED DIVORCE.

MRS. CONSTANCE B. BARMORE GIVEN DECREE AFTER HEARING OF EVIDENCE.

Constance Britt Barmore was granted a divorce from David S. Barmore in Judge Dehy's court yesterday. A corroborative witness was her father, Attorney E. W. Britt of the law firm of Huneker and Britt. He told how he assisted in obtaining evidence of his son-in-law's unfaithfulness to his wife. In an interview outside of the Whitehall Apartments on Bixel street near Seventh street from the time Mr. Barmore entered the apartments of the night of April 12, he had not been seen again. At the office of Huneker and Britt the following morning, Mr. Barmore made no denial. Mr. Britt

"He told me he had been engaged in educational work in this State and has recently been technical instructor in the California Flying School, was notified yesterday that he has been appointed to the United States Naval Reserve Flying Corps and ordered into immediate active service."

"I expect to go to some distant port," said Mr. Ross.

Mr. Ross' wife and baby daughter Geraldine will return to Mrs. Ross' former home in the East to stay until the husband and father return.

Mrs. Barmore recently returned to this city from Tyrone, N. M., where she instructed a class of students in the art of embroidery. In addition to the American Red Cross—She has completed a course in the Pennsylvania Chapter of the Red Cross—and proposes to devote her time to this work. Attorney D. M. Hunaker was counsel for Mrs. Barmore.

RESOURCES.
Now we are being introduced to flour made from sweet potatoes—and it seems to go pretty well. What a wonderful country this would be if we could make biscuits of sand and adobe!

UP IN THE AIR.
It is popular judgment that many young couples are up in the air when they get married, and now that a couple of officers in the Aviation Corps have had airplane honeymoons there is no question about it. It seems fit that newlyweds should have their heads in the clouds.

MAKING THE TEST.
People are prone to sneer at men who are "stuck on themselves" or in whom the ego has run wild, yet there is no doubt but this would be a mightier and a readier nation if it were made up of individuals each of whom felt that he had the burden of the whole country on his shoulders. It is our responsibilities that make us great.

WHO ARE "WE"?
Yes, "WE" are going to win this war, as the orators so often say; but who are "we"? "We" are the Allies. Judge Blodsoe said a timely word at the Americanization dinner Wednesday evening when he decried the use of this oratorical explosive as having reference to Americans only as "we." As the judge remarked so forcibly, "WE Americans are going to help win the war. Our allies have done most of the winning thus far."

MUST HAVE MEANT IT.
Down in Kentucky an evangelist, in opening a series of revival meetings, concluded with the words: "And now, O Lord, we ask Thee to bless Thy servants, the President of the United States, the King of England and the President of France, but excuse me, God to hell with the Kaiser!" Even Billy Sunday could do no better. At any rate, the audience cheered, which is more than they do for most preachers' prayers.

JUDGE NOT.

A unique character who lives on the east side of Los Angeles and who has a reputation for being "close" recently entered a delicatessen shop and ordered two cents' worth of rolls. As he left the shop the salesman remarked to a customer, "That man is too stingy to eat enough." The purchaser of the rolls walked out to the curbing and called, "Here, Rover!" A lean, hungry-looking dog came running up to him, wagging his tail. The stingy man emptied the rolls out of the sack and the dog, after devouring them, walked contentedly away. The proprietor of the delicatessen shop walked to the door and asked, "Your dog, John?" "No," replied the latter, "I don't know who in the hell he belongs to." Verily, it is easier to criticize a man's actions than to see into his heart.

AMERICANIZATION.

At the Americanization dinner presided over by Mr. L. N. Brunswig Wednesday evening Dr. Shields, Los Angeles' popular and accomplished Superintendent of Schools, hit the nail on the head when he pointed out that the best plan for helping new citizens on the path of Americanization is to help them Americanize themselves. Indeed, self-help is always the best. We were glad to hear Dr. Shields decry the patronizing attitude adopted by some of our philanthropic hustlers. The tone of certain teachers in the so-called School for New Citizens has been preposterous; they have addressed newly-naturalized men and women of scholarly attainments, who knew more than the teachers, as though they were ignoramuses. Mr. Brunswig, Mr. Guasti, Mr. Funebot and others associated with them are indefatigable in their efforts for Americanization at all times and seasons; but we doubt if much organized and practical work can be expected to be done along this one line when so many overwhelming problems are pressing upon America and she is putting in her best licks "over there."

AS THROUGH A GLASS DARKLY.
People who have been grieved over the famine in glass eyes since the German crop has been banned may now find relief. We are now making better artificial glasses in this country than Germany could ever produce. The new kind are made from carilage. They are lighter and adjust themselves to the socket in an easy and natural manner. There is no shrinking in the cavity or any troublesome contraction of the muscles to hold them in place. They are also easy to treat by the artist so that they will resemble the real thing. Of course there is no vision behind these toy windshields. They are worn merely for the sake of appearance, but a soldier who lost an eye through the explosion of a German shell hated mortally to have to rely upon the Germans to provide a glass substitute. Once more he is independent of the hirings of the Kaiser. The Prussians still have a sort of a monopoly on the brewing of poisonous gases, but in the matter of making a people more comfortable or better looking the world has found ways to be completely independent of them. We want no more crockery eyes that are made in Germany.

III.
Grave charges in truth been made in connection with aircraft production. Congress appropriated $60,000,000. The whole of this enormous sum was used—

"T WAS EVER THUS.
For a year and a half land was common property at Llano del Rio in Los Angeles county; for a year and a half Socialism undulated held sway. But at the end of that time all the available assets of the colony had passed in some mysterious manner into the possession of those who preached Socialism, while those who practiced it were evicted not only from the Llano del Rio property, but from the private homes some of them owned at the time they took part in the great Socialist movement that was to "regenerate" the West. Judging by results, degenerate would be a more applicable word.

Each of the colonists was employed by the company (which meant the whole of them) to till the soil for a fixed stipend of $4 a day. The Socialist idea that money itself is without value was carried to the extent that they were paid in certificates instead of real money. Theoretically the millennium had been established, but practically the colony failed and the books of the promoters of the company had been seized as part of a grand jury investigation concerning charges of criminal intent on the part of the promoters. It is simply another failure recorded in an attempt to "create wealth by decree and to substitute Utopian theories for the old law of supply and demand. The sufferers are, unfortunately, sincere persons of limited means who sacrificed the savings of a lifetime to chase rainbows painted by Job Harriman and the two red Wolves, male and female.

A IR MACHINES — PATRIOTISM — PRESIDENT WILSON'S COURSE.

President Wilson rose dramatically above the level of partisan politics when he invited Charles Evans Hughes, his late opponent, to assist in the Federal Investigation of what the President terms "very serious charges of dishonesty that have been made in connection with the production of aircraft." A statesman has been defined as a man who dares. In violating all political tradition the President has burst the bonds of party discipline and stands revealed to the country in a new light. Consternation reigns in the camps of his political retainers and his enemies. No President ever before appointed the chief of the opposition to a position where he could strike the dominant party in its weakest point, that of patronage. While we seldom revert to it, it is nevertheless a fact that our good Presidents in the past have all been strong party men.

During his first term President Wilson was almost a slave to party routine. The supreme test of every candidate for political appointment was that he was a good Democrat. The Democratic leaders knew that the President was still in his political swaddling clothes and stands revealed to the country in a new light. Consternation reigns in the camps of his political retainers and his enemies. No President ever before appointed the chief of the opposition to a position where he could strike the dominant party in its weakest point, that of patronage. While we seldom revert to it, it is nevertheless a fact that our good Presidents in the past have all been strong party men.

WANTED.

By his prompt acceptance of the place tendered to him Mr. Hughes has likewise displayed a patriotism and personal abnegation almost without a parallel in American political history. The failure of the aircraft programme is in itself a terrific arraignment of the Democratic administration. It is unprecedented. The collapse is all the more tragic to the Democratic party because Secretary Baker had made a report to Congress that all was proceeding satisfactorily in aircraft production just two weeks before the exposure came. No one believes that Secretary Baker intentionally deceived the public; it is generally accepted that he was misled by the data furnished by the heads of the aviation department. If the country has been robbed, the President is determined that political exigencies shall not serve as a bar to the prosecution of the criminals. He will not even set Democrats to prosecute Democrats, but invites one whose Republican and probity are alike above suspicion to assist in the investigation.

The effects of the President's course will extend much further than the department of aircraft production. He has served notice on the members of every Federal department that any serious charges of graft or misconduct may be investigated by their political opponents. While the spoils may belong to the victor, there is to be a rigid discrimination between legitimate and illegitimate spoils. It is an serious blow to the actual production of airplanes is now under way. By the selection of Mr. Hughes to take part in the investigation of the failure of the part, the American people are assured that no political whitewash will be applied. If there has been criminal responsibility, it will be fixed. If it was only a case of incompetence, fitting square pegs in round holes, the people will be fully advised. It will be wise to leave the investigation to those whose duty it is to investigate. We have placed our hands to the plow and no good purpose will be served by continuing to look back.

By the selection of Mr. Hughes to take part in the investigation of the failure of the part, the American people are assured that no political whitewash will be applied. If there has been criminal responsibility, it will be fixed. If it was only a case of incompetence, fitting square pegs in round holes, the people will be fully advised. It will be wise to leave the investigation to those whose duty it is to investigate. We have placed our hands to the plow and no good purpose will be served by continuing to look back.

The effects of the President's course will extend much further than the department of aircraft production. He has served notice on the members of every Federal department that any serious charges of graft or misconduct may be investigated by their political opponents. Figure in Mystery of Lost Gold Bag.

OBJECTIONS ARE MANY IN EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.

The prosecution in the trial of Herbert G. Dow, charged with embezzlement of a sack containing $10,000 in gold from the office of the County Treasurer about March 1, 1917, sought to prove yesterday by many witnesses that they received gold in exchange for their warrants on that day and that Mr. Dow paid out $10,000 in gold and consequently had an excess of $10, 000 in currency. This theory the War Department will attempt to wed into the alleged fact that about $2000 in currency was found in a safe deposit box in Mr. Dow's name at a local bank.

Mr. Dow denies that he took the money, and his attorneys, Joseph Ford and Frank C. Stafford, will defend him and West turn

RELIEF CARGO DRIVE HALTED.

Postpone Work Until Red Cross Campaign is Over.

Headquarters Congested with Tons of Donations.

Contributions of Schools to be Collected Today.

With an enormous quantity of food and clothing gathered for the relief cargo to France, the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the undertaking yesterday adjourned until next week from next Tuesday. In the meantime, donations will be received at the headquarters at No. 224 South Hill street, but the soliciting campaign will be halted pending the big Red Cross drive of next week. Virtually all the contributors are serving with the Red Cross organization.

Contributions of money, food and clothing were bigger yesterday than on any previous day and the Hill street headquarters was congested last night so that contributions could be received. Arrangements have been made to ship six carloads, or more than 100 tons, of the packed goods to the harbor warehouse this morning to make room for the school donations. Several trucks will be kept busy all day today bringing the supplies from about four schools. In all, two, 100, or 200 more tons of supplies will be moved from the Los Angeles headquarters to the harbor.

Long Beach, however, reported that three tons of food and seven tons of clothing, packed under police inspection, were ready for shipment. These will be hauled directly to the harbor. Pauline, another truckload yesterday, making a contribution of more than ten tons in all.

The Red Cross shop at Eighth and Alvarado streets sent in $190 in cash and other organizations reported donations of cash and food. The Drama League contributed eighty-two dollars.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson reported that the Los Angeles unit of the women's section of the National Council of Defense has collected thirty-eight thousand dollars, giving more than two tons of food. The Drama League will be the last to contribute to the campaign, but more than has been collected can be carried.

tions were received yesterday:

ASKS SENATE TO ACT.

CONFIRMATION OF PRESIDENT'S APPOINTMENT OF LAND OFFICE REGISTRAR SOUGHT.

Insisting that the Senate take immediate action to confirm the appointment of Ben F. Grove as registrar of the Land Office, because of a surplus of business on hand, Alex Mitchell, receiver for the United States Land Office, yesterday sent a telegram to that effect to Senator Phelan at Washington.

Grove received his appointment from the Senate in June of last year, but has been unable to fill his duties because of delay in having it confirmed by the Senate. He was formerly secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, and late John D. Roche, who died a month ago.

At Least That's What City Humans Board Says. Would Stop It.

The Humane Animal Commission wants the Council to adopt an ordinance prohibiting dogs from riding on the fenders of automobiles. It is contended that the dogs suffer because of getting cinders and other things in their eyes, and that nerve shock often follows.
